As you know, doctor, the quality of care rendered on an outpatient basis is just as high as that rendered on an inpatient basis for certain tests and treatments.

By eliminating unnecessary hospital use, you can help your patients save money on health care and ultimately on the cost of their health care coverage.

Here's how:

- Use Pre-Admission Testing whenever possible.
- Perform Same-Day Surgery whenever medically feasible.
- Prescribe outpatient services instead of inpatient services when medically indicated.
- Don't admit patients for elective treatment on weekends.
- Instruct your patients to not use a hospital emergency room as a substitute for your care.

- Encourage your patients to adopt healthier lifestyles . . . moderation in eating and drinking, adequate rest and exercise and no smoking.

With your help, doctor, together, we can help hold down the rate of increase in health care costs.

THOUGHTS ON VACATION AND VOCATION

This summer our family had the delightful experience of spending a week in the Black Hills of South Dakota (and another week of driving). We photographed Mount Rushmore from all angles and experienced a profound sense of patriotism that one has when in the presence of this inspiring memorial.

We viewed the buffalo, the burros and the mountains. We toured a gold mine and went to the trial of Jack McCall who, much to the horror of Calamity Jane, liquidated Wild Bill Hickok while he sat at the poker table holding aces and eights.

It was a great vacation and the kids learned a lot of history. It also brought back memories for Mary Ann and me. We were stationed there for two years when I was in the Air Force.

Naturally I had to visit the Air Force base to see what had become to my old pediatric clinic. Changes had occurred. The current pediatrician was in Denver working on a research paper. Two pediatric nurse assistants were in charge of the clinic. The nurse that I talked to had had four months of training to prepare her to practice pediatrics, including diagnosis and treatment of ill children. Several questions came to mind:

1. Is this good medicine?
2. Was my seven years of medical education wasted?
3. Am I going the way of the dinosaur?

Editorial

Recently it was called to my attention that a legal donnybrook involving several physicians had taken place in a nearby community. The conflict had its origin in the so-called "residence clause" and specifically involved the dissolution of a medical group and the legal rights of one of its members to re-establish practice in the same community after separating from his previous partners. The issue was resolved in a local courtroom, but the decision was ultimately appealed to a higher court and at this time the problem remains unresolved as it passes through the judicial system. In the process, the problem has received wide local publicity, and public emotion ran high as claims and counter-claims from all parties involved received significant attention.

As one read the press accounts, as well as the letters to the Editor regarding this problem, one could not help but feel remorse in observing competent practicing physicians damaging one another's reputation in the public eye. While the economic factors involved in this case were only a small part of the entire issue, to the public this appeared to be the major issue involved in the legal battle.

It is indeed unfortunate, at a time when public disdain and distrust of physicians runs rampant, that we see medical practitioners battling one another publicly over the right of an individual to practice in the area of his choosing. Such arguments are petty and, when given wide publicity, only tend to undermine the confidence which the public has in the medical profession. While much of the unfavorable publicity regarding physicians is unfair, we as physicians must bear the responsibility for publicity such as this, and do our level best to avoid such unnecessary internal conflict.

Specialists for in-the-home medical oxygen and respiratory therapy. Sales and rentals.

NO MORE TANKS!

The amazing Bendix Respiratory Support System makes bulky, high-pressure oxygen cylinders a thing of the past. This attractive, furniture-like unit literally manufactures oxygen from normal room air. The RSS draws room air through a series of carbon filters and molecular sieve beds to remove impurities and extract nitrogen content. The resulting oxygen enriched air, dialed in at concentrations of 90% at 2 liters per minute to 48% at 10 liters per minute, is delivered to the patient through conventional cannulas, masks and humidifiers. RSS operates without liquid or high-pressure cylinders and requires no chemical or gas filling. And, the high cost, inconvenience and patient apprehension of oxygen tanks in the home is eliminated. Only a small portable back-up cylinder is recommended. RSS operates on regular household current and is medicare-approved for purchase or rental.

OLD FASHIONED MEETING SEPT. 22

The Mahoning County Medical Society will start the new season with an "old fashioned Medical Society meeting," to be held at Tippecanoe Country Club on Thursday, Sept. 22.

The plan is to make this meeting just like the ones that the old-timers talk about, when attendance was nearly 100% and everyone had a good time.

This will be an informal get-together, with plenty of good food and fellowship, no spouses, very little business, and plenty of time for games after the meeting. Come and have a good time. Dress casual. Reservations may be made at the office of the Mahoning County Medical Society. Phone: 747-4956.

SALUTE TO J. L. FISHER, M.D.

Dr. J. L. Fisher, founder and first editor of the Bulletin in 1931, consistent contributor to the Bulletin since that date, Editor Emeritus of the Bulletin and long-time author of the "From the Bulletin" feature, has laid down his pen. This month's column was written by his son, Dr. Robert Fisher, who will continue the column.

Forty-six bound volumes of the Bulletin at the Medical Society office attest to the inspiration and dedication of one man, whose life-time contribution to this magazine and this Medical Society is simply beyond measure - - J. L. Fisher, M.D. To him we dedicate this issue.

MEDICAL ASSISTANTS DINNER NEXT MONTH

The biggest annual event sponsored by the Mahoning County Medical Society, the Medical Assistants Dinner, has once more moved to larger quarters. This year's dinner will be held at Sokol Center, Midlothian Blvd. on Thursday, Oct. 6th.

Two years ago the party outgrew the Ramada Inn, with an attendance of 346 persons. Last year it outgrew the Holiday Inn with a crowd of 367. This year's attendance is expected to approach 400.

Doctors are reminded that this is the doctors' party for their girls. Dr. George Dietz, chairman, asks every member to send all his girls and he promises them fun, music, entertainment, favors, good food and lots of door prizes. He asks members to watch for the pink flyer and to return the reservation slip to the Medical Society office.

DRUG SAMPLE PICK-UP IN OCTOBER

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Mahoning County Medical Society will again hold their annual pick-up of unwanted drug samples from the offices of area physicians. The two-week pick-up period will be from Monday, Oct. 10th, through Friday, Oct. 21st.

Each doctor's office will be called by some member of the Auxiliary. Doctors may help by (1) alerting all office personnel to expect a visit and give assistance to the caller, (2) by having the drug samples neatly packed in boxes that are not too heavy, and (3) by having everything packed prior to the 10th to avoid confusion at the time of the collector's arrival. No samples will be picked up after the final date, Oct. 21st.

Co-chairmen for his year's collection are Mrs. Raymond Jackson and Mrs. David Pichette. The total collection, which usually fills a truck, will be sent to World Medical Relief in Detroit for further distribution to hospitals and missions throughout the world.

In Memoriam

HERMAN H. IPP1910 - 1977

Dr. Herman H. Ipp, 67, died on Wednesday, August 25 at Miami Beach following a brief illness.

Dr. Ipp was born in Youngstown, where he attended school and was graduated from The Rayen School in 1928. He received his B.A. degree from Ohio State University in 1932, and his M.D. degree from the same school in 1935.

He practiced in Youngstown from 1937 until 1970, specializing in internal medicine and cardiovascular diseases. Upon leaving Youngstown, he continued his practice in Miami.

Dr. Ipp served in the Army Air Force in World War II and earned two battle stars.

He was president of the Mahoning County Chapter of the American Academy of General Practice in 1955. He was a fellow of the American College of Angiology, the American College of Cardiology and the American College of Internal Medicine. He was a member of the American Heart Association, the American Diabetes Association, Alpha Omega Alpha and Phi Delta Epsilon medical fraternities, and was a member of Rodef Sholom Temple.

SECOND COMPOSITE PHOTOS COMPLETED

A second and small composite, companion to the first composite photo, has been completed and was presented to each of the hospitals at the end of June. The purpose is to include the photos (where available) and the names of every member of the Mahoning County Medical Society as of the date of presentation.

The large original composites contain the photograph of every doctor who had one taken (or submitted his own) during the special project of the Mahoning County Medical Society in 1975. Because there were a number of members who were unable to make photo arrangements, Council decreed early this year that a second composite be prepared which would include all the names of these members and photos if desired.

The presentation of the second composite concludes the work of the Bicentennial Committee, Dr. John C. Melnick, chairman, and Dr. Jack Schreiber, co-chairman.

Since the last publication of the Bulletin in June, the following applications for membership have been approved by Council.

ACTIVE: Ronald Aiello, D.O.

ASSOCIATE: Richard L. Bernstine, M.D.

Henry Lee Myers, Jr., M.D.
Volker V. H. Sonntag, M.D.

PROCEEDINGS OF COUNCIL

(Excerpts from the June 14 and Aug. 2 meetings)

Dr. Anderson called attention to the results of the Generic Drug Substitution poll, which was printed in the June Bulletin. He announced that he had presented the poll results in his testimony before the House Judiciary Committee in Columbus.

Dr. Abdu, insurance chairman, reported that the dental coverage offered to the Physicians' Hospitalization Group had been rejected by group members by a vote of 95 to 56.

Dr. Lambert, treasurer, reported that the Massachusetts Investors Growth Fund investment had been terminated and the money placed in the general fund for current expenses.

Dr. Anderson reported that he attended the testimonial dinner for Dr. B. B. Burrowes and presented the plaque that Council had approved.

A motion was made by Dr. Abdu that the president appoint a Physician Effectiveness Committee to work with the Ohio State Medical Association physician effectiveness program.

Dr. Anderson reported that the liaison committee met with the committee from the Health Systems Agency on June 23.

A letter was read from Dr. Pass, blood bank committee chairman, in which he explained the changes in the blood bank situation for this area.

Council agreed to a joint meeting with the Trumbull County Medical Society. However this was later cancelled when the Trumbull Society was unable to obtain their desired speaker.

New members' applications, approved during this period, are reported elsewhere in the Bulletin.

From the Bulletin

FORTY YEARS AGO — SEPTEMBER 1937

The new Constitution and By-Laws were approved and ready for distribution.

L. J. Karnosh from Cleveland addressed the Society on "Three Mile-Posts of Modern Psychiatry": 1. Fever therapy, 2. Vitamin therapy in deficiency diseases and 3. Insulin shock from dementia praecox.

President Fuzy was trying to organize a Bowling League.

Some of the old advertisers that we miss: Heberding's Indian Creek Farm Milkman, C. L. Thompson with his new Packard Invalid Coach, Humphrey Drug Company (the oldest drug store on the Square) with Ben Kelley back of the counter. The Central Square Garage, Antiphlogistine for salpingitis, The Scott Company on Phelps St. with the latest in men's shirts and cravats. Cross Drugs, Soricin for irritable colon, the Allergy Research Institute face mask for hay fever, Paul Schmidt the florist, Treudley's office supplies, James and Weaver on Wood St., Lewis Surgical Appliance Co. in the Bus Arcade and Jones Laboratories in Cleveland.

THIRTY YEARS AGO — SEPTEMBER 1947

There was much in the Bulletin that month about the new Board of Health and Health Commissioner but it failed to materialize. It never even got on the ballot.

At the Youngstown Hospital Fred Schlecht was resident in Surgery. Dean Stillson was resident in Medicine, Edward A. Shorten was resident in Proctology and S. G. Patton resident in Pathology. Internes were: Don Covert, William Gross, John Guju and Louis Loria.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — SEPTEMBER 1957

There was much discussion of Social Security for doctors and polls were being taken. Editor Pichette urged us to acquaint ourselves with the facts so that we could make a judicious decision when the time came. When the time came, the decision was made for us.

There was much concern about the pandemic of Asian type influenza and a new vaccine was prepared for the supply was very limited.

The AFL-CIO warned "medical power groups", "fee-minded physicians" and "monopolistic elements of organized medicine" that they had better go along with union labor medical programs, or else.

TEN YEARS AGO — SEPTEMBER 1967

President Harold Reese was concerned about the fact that our local area boys and girls who graduate from Medical School were not returning to their home town for internship or to practice medicine, thus leaving a shortage of practicing physicians in our area.

Editor Eli Saadi came up with a formula that INF (Inflation) plus BMC (Better Medical Care) equals $MC (Increased Medical Costs). The Wall Street Journal predicted accurately that hospital costs in big city hospitals would reach $100.00 per day by 1970. And that was before everybody had to have a "cat" scanner.

Dr. John McCann was appointed as first chairman of the board of the new Youngstown State University. Dr. Wm. H. Bunn, Jr. was named Chief of Medicine at the Youngstown Hospital Association, succeeding Dr. Fred S. Coombs. Dr. Paxton Jones was named Chief of Obstetrics at YHA. Dr. Arnoldus Goudsmit left Youngstown to become Chief of the Division of Oncology at the V. A. Hospital in Dearborn, Michigan.
